

Mitsuru AIDA

aida@nijl.ac.jp

Name:

Mitsuru Aida

Contact Address:

Assistant Professor,
The National Institute of Japanese Literature(NIJL)
1-16-10Yutaka-cho Sinagawa-ku,Tokyo 142,Japan
E-mail: aida@nijl.ac.jp

Education:

- (1) Graduated from Department of Japanese Literature, Chuo University on March 25, 1981. Received Bachelor's Degree in Literature.
- (2) Graduated from Department of Literature (Master Course), Chuo University on March 25, 1983. Received Master's Degree in Japanese Literature.
- (3) Completion at course from Department of Literature (Doctor Course), Chuo University on March 25, 1986

Occupation:

- (1) Joined the Tokyo metropolitan Honjo industrial high school in April 1, 1986, as a Teacher
- (2) Moved to the National Institute of Japanese Literature (NIJL) from September 1, 1992, and assigned to the Research Information Department as an Assistant Professor.

Research Field:

- (1) Comparative Classical Literature between Japanese and Chinese
- (2) Computer Humanities
- (3) Ontology

Papers:

Mitsuru AIDA and Ikuo Oketani: "Creation and Application of Japanese Historical Gazetteer --Ontological Approach to Geographical Name and Place", PNC 2006 Annual Conference Abstract,

Mitsuru AIDA: "Ontology of the 'Mizu' and 'Mizuho'", Japanese literature in Chuo university, pp165-175, 2007 (Japanese)

<http://pnclink.org:8080/pnc2006/Presentation%20material/Humanities%20GIS%20-%20Oketani%20and%20AIDA.pdf>

Mitsuru AIDA: "Ontology of the classical study about Japanese and Chinese", Bensey Publishing, Inc, pp1-282, 2007 (Japanese).

Mitsuru AIDA: "Construction of chrono ontology --To support the analysis of the document written in the old calendar age in Japan--", IPSJ SIG Notes 2007-CH-76, pp25-32, 2007 (Japanese)..