

Brief CV of Professor Hsianghoo Steve Ching

August, 2009

Steve Ching is University Librarian at City University of Hong Kong. He is also a Professor of Economics. Before accepting the appointments at CityU in 2004, he was Director of University Libraries and Professor of Business School at Feng Chia University in Taiwan. His recent research and work focuses are on both regional and inter-regional academic library consortia development and management, strategic development for digital publishing, changing management of library services, and economic issues for PRD & YRD.

Recent Publications

- (1) Ching, H.S., Cheng Hsiao, Shui Ki Wan and Tongsan Wang (2009). Economic Benefits of Globalization – the Impact of Entry to WTO on China’s Growth. Pacific Economic Review. (Accepted and Forthcoming)
- (2) Ching, H.S., & Tai, Alice (2009). HF RFID versus UHF RFID - Technology for Library Service Transformation at City University of Hong Kong. Journal of Academic Librarianship. Volume 35, Number 4, pages 347-359.
- (3) Ching, H.S., Tai, Alice, Pong, Joanna, & Cheng, Michael (2009). Don’t Let Micropayments Penalize You: A Stepping Stone for Total Service Transformation. Journal of Academic Librarianship, 35(1), 86-97.
- (4) Cheng, Pei-Kai, & Ching, Hsianghoo Steve (Eds.). (2009). The Rapport between China and Korea in History: Classical Korean Works in Chinese and Cultural Exchange. Guilin: Guangxi Normal University Press.
- (5) Ching, H.S., Leung, Maria W., Fidow, Margarret, & Huang, Ken L. (2008). Allocating Costs in the Business Operation of Library Consortium: The Case Study of Super e-Book Consortium. Library Collections, Acquisitions, and Technical Services, 32(1), 97-103.