

Hala N. Barakat has a Ph.D. in Paleoecology from the University of Aix-Marseille III, France. She acts as deputy director at the Center for Documentation of Cultural and Natural Heritage (CULTNAT) affiliated to the Library of Alexandria and is in charge of the natural heritage documentation, the training programs and the Heritage Institute project at CULTNAT.

She is also member and former president of Nature Conservation Egypt (NCE) a non profit organization active in the field of conservation of endangered species and habitats and raising awareness to environmental issues in Egypt.